FARM POLICY ON EUROPE IS BIG SURPRISE

Suggestion America be Represented at Genoa Important Development — Getting Away From Isolation.

HARDING TAKES DIG

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.-Most of the sputtering fireworks in the farm conference go back to a single episode of the first day's session, which did not consume a minute of time, but since then has taken up a good many hundred hours of individual discussion among the delegates. It was in Harding's opening speech. The speech has been prepared in advance and Harding was reading it word by word. He came to the point where his written speech said: "The whole country has an acute concern with the conditions and problems you are met to est, and not to be regarded as primar-ton, of New York, is a pretty and ily the concern of a class or a section." raised his eyes from the manuscript, an air of determined disapproval, added the three words, "or a bloc."

This thrust at the farm bloc in congress is expressive of what seems to be Harding's attitude towards it. He had read a series of recommendations for legislation which was thoroughly agreeable to the farmers, and included most of what they are demanding, and then he took this dig at the agency through which the farmers are trying to bring their demands about. Similar Action

Harding had done a similar thing in his speech at the opening of con- ambassador to Great Britain, and the question of accepting the comprogress last month. That address to con- Premier Poincare, which has been gress and included a series of recommen-scheduled for today has been postinterest of the farmer, but at the same poned until Monday. Myron T. There was never much doubt that the American Farm Bureau federation as to participation by the United to do it, and could do it, if they of these conversations. thought it advisable.

"Steam Roller Charges The second cause of insurgency within the conference hangs about the method by which it was organized. A meeting like this can be organized from the chair or from the floor This one was organized from the chair. The dominating personnel of the committee appears to have been picked in advance

It is probably fair to say that in fixing it there was a certain amount more radical and the more irresponsible persons who might turn up. This is largely what has led to the "Mark Hanna Dominations," and the according to a report to the police. complaint of "steam roller" methods, arisen out of the suggestion in some and might not be easily replaced. quarters of the conference to advocate as a part of the machinery fo reducing freight rates, a reduction in the wages of railroad labor.

Gompers Explodes. Such a suggestion naturally sends Samuel Gompers and other representatives of organized labor up in the air. It illustrates the difficulties inherent in a conference which aims to include not only the farmer, but also the other industries, and the other elements in the community who are concerned with the situation in its broader sense.

The farmer wants freight rates re say they can reduce freight rates if they can-first reduce wages the farm- committee, which recently investigaters are sympathetic. The farmer, in his overalls, sees the railroad conductor as a brass-buttoned autocrat who has regular hours of work, with secure life-time job and a salary which from the point of view of the farmer at the present time looks

In the largest sense, one of the have to be made to end the conflict. most interesting and important de velopments of the conference is the support for the suggestion that America should be fully represented at the Genoa conference and in general a decided sympathy toward greater participation on the part of America in European affairs.

Obvious Approval. One speaker got obvious approval when he said that America ought to be fully represented on the reparations commession. The president of the fifty-million-dollar Farmers' Equity Co-operative Exchange of St. Paul said in his speech, "Europe owes us ten billions of dollars. I believe that Uncle Sam should be represented there: and if I had that much coming, and if you had that much coming from a bunch of debtors, and those
